

EXTRADITION 2.0

A Solution to find and reach True
Freedom and Wealth in Modern Times of War

by Peterson Teixeira - CEO / Founder

Hey friends and business owners, Peterson Teixeira here.

Founder & CEO at Peterson Teixeira Company.

A quick word to share that may impact The Market.

EXTRADITIONS ARE MARKET SOLUTIONS!

I'm here to bring a solution for our Modern Times of War. A word about it at least. The Global Market is being destroyed by Big Tech companies, mostly Google and Facebook. As a consequence, Marketing is becoming a commodity and turning too centralized in The Duopoly (GOOGLE & FACEBOOK), not to mention Online Communications. The Media Industry is turning almost all their business-related content into hard paywalls and True Entrepreneurs, CEOs and Business Owners are losing access to precise Market Strategies because of it. Journalism is under attack, and consequently Democracies and Capitalism as a whole.

Market Intelligence has a cost. A big one. And that makes a difference.

At the time I'm writing this, I'm in São José dos Campos, Brazil. The problem is that my own country is NOT a capitalist nation and wealth building is something extremely hard to do from over here. From my standpoint, Brazil is a big farm, and relies too much on The United States for business. Netflix, Google, Facebook, Microsoft, Apple, Amazon, Pinterest, Brave, Firefox, Thunderbird, and most of all of mainstream media websites that have direct impact on companies in Brazil belong to The United States, creating a level of Market reach inside Brazil never seen before. That has consequences.

THINK OF BRAZIL + USA:

Computer Brands like Dell

UNITED STATES

Computer Systems like Microsoft Windows

UNITED STATES

Smartphone Brands like Google Android and Apple

UNITED STATES

Entertainment like Netflix and Amazon Prime

UNITED STATES

Social Media like Facebook, Instagram, Youtube, Pinterest

UNITED STATES

Ride Sharing companies like Uber, Lyft

UNITED STATES

Online Maps technology like Google Maps and Apple Maps

UNITED STATES

And GPS itself

UNITED STATES

Summary: All major digital ecosystems in Brazil are under The United States.

Hence why, to me, Brazil is somewhat of a colony of The United States.

And that's just a small portion of the American brands inside Brazil.

So obviously, we need to move. And connect. Fast. Because we can still build wealth if we understand the connections between nations around the globe starting by the links and brands we can see from our country.

The whole work on Peterson Teixeira Company (www.petersonteixeira.com) currently depends more on The USA and some of Europe. And a tiny bit of Asia. Gathering Market Intelligence is only possible because mainly of The USA. Because some of it is still free. I have been building market insights for companies thanks to True Entrepreneurs and Media Businesses who are publishing from The U.S. + brands / companies from other capitalist nations. But Global Markets are closing and opportunities are shutting down because too many businesses and individuals are fighting for online attention under Google and Facebook, attacking our very survival and Capitalism as a whole (globally).

The solution is to connect with other parts of the world. The solution is to go International. But that also has to be done physically as well so we can work together to bring independent solutions for The Global Market faster. However, some of them still come from The USA. Just as a quick example, some solutions for the smartphone industry are Unplugged, Light Phone and Purism which are also from The USA.

Brave, a browser I like has brought smart solutions for both the browser industry and the online video call industry. So once again, The United States is fighting back to bring solutions and defend Capitalism in a time of Modern Warfare. Business Wars. But from my standpoint, they cannot do it alone. We all need to move internationally. With order and precision.

Companies today need to be online. Entrepreneurs and CEOs as well. The more precise your online presence, the better because too much of The Global Market is under The Internet today. In fact, with The Internet under attack, most businesses will shut down. Journalism too. And many crises will unravel.

And today many businesses (including media businesses) exist only and purely online. They just have a country of origin but use The Internet to operate. And they stabilize regions on other countries.

It's Market Reality.

Additionally, companies like Brave Software are building new kinds of URLs which means there's something going on with The Internet as well. Since I obviously don't know everything, there's some major Market shifts happening right now and not too many people are aware about. Entrepreneurs and CEOs too. Because it's impossible to keep track of everything today.

You may be a solopreneur or have a great team behind you and yet you can't still find every piece of relevant market intelligence. And Intelligence is everything for businesses. Market strategies can't be executed without it.

Since at least 2017 I noticed how going International is the way to go, because Globalization is the last frontier for money making today and wealth building. However, a lot of it, relies on The Internet.

That's why we need Extraditions.

THE SOLUTION:

NUMBER #1:

Making your company available to do business with foreign countries

NUMBER #2:

Having your CEOs with the right documents and gear ready to move

NUMBER #3:

Having your family members in possession of documents necessary to move

NUMBER #4:

Having solutions involving The Open Web to offer to Global Markets

NUMBER #5:

Having precise routes of transportation from city of origin to city of destination

NUMBER #6:

Having a foreign address ready to receive you and possible family members

NUMBER #7:

Having access to telecommunications in the foreign country ready for you

That's the basics. However, this is not complete.

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES:

Some government agencies need to identify the owners of companies and websites as well and make a move so Extraditions can happen smoothly and with more precision. CEOs and Entrepreneurs can only be public about it and position themselves, but there's the need of some of the government and its agents to be involved in order for things to happen.

Otherwise, Nations will start to crumble because businesses (and thus people) will begin to crash. And they won't know what to do next to survive and how to handle certain crises because they either don't have the expertise nor the resources. It's businesses that usually solve most crises in the world. and bring Market solutions and create hope. But they all start with a group of people or a single individual.

Hence why you need Entrepreneurs.

Governments usually come next. That's usually how it works. Otherwise people will struggle to survive all over the place. It's the work of people directly that either generate a product or a service in our Society and create stability for people.

But if people can't work properly in a Global Market, major instability will happen inside nations. That's because If people are not positioned right in a Global Market which rules the world, it becomes harder to make market solutions available, relevant, and The Market stabilized. Why? Because many people are in the wrong place. They need to switch countries and THEN work.

Some Market stability will only be brought once that happens.

Companies and Entrepreneurs are still putting out their work, especially online.

But many transactions are not happening because Capitalism is under attack on a global scale. And without Capitalism, there are no market solutions to provide. Furthermore, Artificial Intelligence is already destroying jobs and in order to reskill or upskill you need both time and resources. Which means you need to be positioned in the right place using the right products or services from the right companies to have a chance to fight back and solve that kind of crisis. Some solutions do exist, but may be unreachable. Besides, helping others requires free time you have available when you are not working. You can't provide help otherwise.

That's why today, that's usually a luxury. People actually helping each other. Additionally, relevant work is being harder to find because major monopolies are causing market destruction. From other countries. Because since Globalization is a reality, for many people there's no way to fight back.

Hence why we need to move strategically so we can provide solutions that do fit the Global Market. The Market today of all countries IS Global. People need to wake up to what's happening in a global scale and position themselves in a smarter way. Work done right makes a difference, and creates lasting change.

We all need order and stability to survive, but for honest people that's under attack. In a time of crisis many will show up, but without access to certain resources and locations and maybe even technology there's no way to provide true help.

We all want to make a difference and create change. The world is a big place with many working day and night to find and provide solutions. But doing our best has a cost. There's always a cost to do our best. That's how it works.

For those who want to make a difference, find ways to position yourself to gain true freedom with what you got. People like freedom. People like hope.

There's always a possible path if you look around.
But for me, Peterson Teixeira, the pathway is INTERNATIONAL.
And not many people understand that today.

Identify a crisis. Then try to create hope.
Then wait and see because others may respond. Many may be unaware of what's happening. But in time some people will move. Because deep down we all want to make a difference. Make yourself available for other parts of the world. There's work to be done that can make a difference. It's harder but it's what we need today.

And that may involve Extraditions.

Make your work available.
And make yourself available to The World.

Take care.
