MARKET FACT #145

100

DAYS is the time frame where the computing power required for A.I. needs to double to keep progress.

DATE: December 7, 2023

COMMENT: Every 100 days the computing power required for A.I. is estimated to DOUBLE in order to fulfill A.I. needs. By the same proportion, the computing power required for A.I. is expected to increase by more than 1,000,000x over THE NEXT 5 YEARS. Remember that at the same time, such level of computing power requires cooling systems to prevent everything from getting fire. And that usually means water-based cooling systems. A natural resource that has an International Crisis of its own.
