subsea cable connections that provide internet access to TAIWAN are tempting targets to a Chinese military attack.

DATE: December 22, 2023

COMMENT: Some say that the WWII has already begun because the level of attacks nations can suffer today are hard to detect as fast as it happens. Cutting off internet access to a country is one of them. Taiwan has 27 subsea cable connections that give the country internet access which are vulnerable to a chinese military attack. Today there's huge competition for attention, where newspapers, influencers, military forces and governments fight daily for it. Hence why, WWII will be a complex war. How do you warn everybody? Fast? Think.
