MARKET FACT #268

350x

the average employee is what the Fortune 500 CEOs make as income.

DATE: February 29, 2024

COMMENT: I think you already know this, but Elon Musk's payment was recently blocked by a court order for being too excessive. From Fortune's CEO Daily Newsletter of February 1st, 2024, for perspective: "With a $55.8 billion maximum value and a $2.6 billion grant date fair value, the plan was 250 times larger than the median peer CEO package, and 33 times larger than the nearest comparison". – SOURCE: Fortune. Although is true that the amount of money is huge, CEOs have to work under massive pressure on a DAILY basis while having their eyes on Tech advancements, PR nightmares, Product Development, R&Ds and much more. So there's nothing wrong in giving them what they're worth. That's how Capitalism works. You get what you deserve from Modern Society. How many people are caring about your every move?
