MARKET FACT #303

$34T

DOLLARS is the U.S. National Debt.
That's a little more than 104,500 of debt to be paid per U.S. citizen.

DATE: August 26, 2024

COMMENT: The United States of America has a national debt that it can't pay \(remember?\). Just ask around whilst in the United States to each citizen you find whether they can pay over $104,500 or not, now or in the near future (4 years). As a result, the economy will eventually collapse because there's no running away from the truth. Since money to the government comes in form of TAXES, and the U.S. Economy is under a small set of monopolies (some very criminal), Capitalism itself is under attack, which means NEW business opportunities and economic growth are both rare, resulting in little fresh money in return. How many homes and companies need to crash to pay this debt crisis? We'll see.
