MARKET FACT #34

88%

of the companies on the S&P 500 have their largest shareholder being either State Street, Black Rock or Vanguard

DATE: September 7, 2023

COMMENT: This is a different kind of a Monopoly. It's a "legal" monopoly. When you have this kind of dominance over the board of S&P 500 companies, which are companies from SEVERAL different industries (!), you have abnormal control coming from a few powerful players. That's some sort of anomaly when you stop to think about it as we can't imagine that amount of valuable companies from many DIFFERENT industries being under the control of a few powerful men. It means that a good chunk of the market, is actually rigged. To say the least.
