types of PLASTIC which are PET and HDPE are legitimately recyclable. And the rates for plastic recycling is less than 10%.

DATE: October 3, 2024

COMMENT: The level of recycling companies need to do in order to push The World to a cleaner future needs to be harder, as plastic alone is a problem big enough to fix. Around 56 companies are pushing into our ecosystem HALF of the plastic that is going into nature with some it causing harm. Finally, remember this: “For those two plastics the recycling rate is close to 30%”. SOURCE: Business Insider (Youtube). We can recycle plastic up to a point, but it can be done. The thing is that many companies don't see any profit in it today.
