MARKET FACT #52

80K

employees are employed by KPMG, Deloitte, PwC and EY consultancy
companies combined

DATE: September 22, 2023

COMMENT: There's a famous article that explains how The Market is a game of Musical Chairs. This means that despite the number of companies and jobs available, an unemployed workforce will always exist as there is not enough jobs for the amount of people today. Even if you're part of the STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math) group. A market fact like this shows how small is the amount of personnel considering the size and impact of certain companies. Nonetheless, Deloitte is cutting 800 jobs which represents a 3% cut in the company's 27,000 workforce in the UK. And that's months after Deloitte announced plans to slash 1,200 jobs in the US as well. What a Market, right?
