MARKET FACT #53

20%

of the World's TOP 1000 Websites are now blocking crawler bots that gather data for A.I. services

DATE: September 22, 2023

COMMENT: There's a war going on for true A.I. robust systems and part of that war is the ability to turn your Large Language Model (LLM) into a reliable A.I. service. But that requires data, reliable data. And professional data is often on company websites where business content is accessible. However, it seems that the warnings about the dangers of A.I. caught a considerable piece of the market since businesses are protecting their works from being crawled by bots that gather data for A.I. systems. Takeaway: looks like professional A.I. systems will take longer to mature to then cause more mass layoffs, since they're been blocked from getting their data by just doing mass content harvesting online.
