PREDICTIONS #3

THE FUTURE OF
PERSONAL PROTECTION

Hey, Peterson Teixeira here.

Founder & CEO at Peterson Teixeira Company.

I'm here to talk about ANOTHER Market Prediction. The following:

THE FUTURE OF PERSONAL PROTECTION

This a complementary message. It's about a few behavior patterns, some simple industries and a key government body. Once again, let's not waste time.

THE MARKET PREDICTION:

I predict that around in 2030 gyms will be on the rise, along with communications technology that truly help in making TRUE social interactions, mental health companies and finally, with government agencies (intelligence agencies to be more precise). All three will be on the rise, and will see money flowing their way. But why? Let's think about how The Global Economy is quickly developing into chaos. Because of A.I alone, around 80% of the impact of A.I. will be negative, and only 20% will be beneficial. That added to the fact that The Global Economic Crisis of 2008 caused too much economic destruction that countries did not recover from, made obvious that companies and employees have been fighting to survive. The problem is that another Global Financial Crisis began in 2019 (11 years later), redistributing wealth in a way where people had to deploy money + savings fast to survive and staying relevant on The Market.

Because A.I. is also coming once again from tech giants like the 5 Big Tech companies (Google, Facebook, Microsoft, Apple and Amazon), and they have established their systems across Latin America and Europe, there's too much valuable PERSONAL and BUSINESS-RELATED data in their hands. Again. Therefore, this means the level of A.I. systems they can create is next-level, matching China's. But this is coming at a very high cost because A.I. is also a blackbox and deep down even Big Tech companies are doing a major R&D experiment on COUNTRIES. Many other businesses are trying to deploy A.I. projects. But in 2025 alone, we saw that 42% of A.I. projects were abandoned, due to lack of profits. No results. No productivity gains. Zero economic sense. Additionally, another revelation is that employees are having additional workload due to being forced to use A.I. tools at work, adding a burden to employees and their daily routine on companies that are still investing and playing the A.I. card.

REMEMBER THE RULE: People run and people are businesses, and certain individuals influence GDP at another level. This means that in this New Age of A.I., certain individuals will be worth a lot. But they cannot survive with massive wealth. Because riots + chaos will burst by people trying to survive, compromising stability.

Then there's another major warning, involving Content Creation that showed up:

IMPORTANT QUOTE:

“Hope everyone enjoys their last year
of meaningful work!”

– Chad Hurley, Co-Founder of Youtube, February 26, 2026.

This connects with The Future of Social Networks and The Future of Online Publishing on Social Networks (from my standpoint). Not to mention (again), that the impact of A.I. will be 80% negative to The Market, and only 20% beneficial. Read it all and you'll quickly understand. The good side is that good humans help themselves constantly.

But what all that has to do with Personal Protection?

Well, here's another important quick quote that is proving to be precise:

IMPORTANT QUOTE:

“The first Trillionaire will be an A.I.
Entrepreneur”

– Mark Cuban, Legendary Entrepreneur

This will happen but at a very high cost (again: read The impact of A.I. will be 80% negative to The Market, and only 20% beneficial article). It's a quick read. But once that happens, ONE individual will be worth a trillion dollars. One person. One. Just one. So with the rise of Trillionaires, masses of people will have nowhere to go for a job, and no way of paying their bills. That includes major companies themselves. And no market data will reveal the crisis in full. Next. with the rise of Trillionaires, National Security protocols take place because these new individuals have a major influence over a country's GDP. This means they understand major Data Points, Business relationships, New Consumer Behavior patterns, New Market Trends and some of the A.I. Technology itself. All on their own. Due to DATA.

Then obviously, TWO things will happen next in Modern Society:

1. Trillionaires will fear for their safety as they have too much wealth becoming “enemies of the people” who are everyday hard workers. Tax payers.

2. Everyday people will have to handle security crises at a local, state and national levels. They will have to worry about not having their remaining assets being robbed by locals or closeby criminals, they will have to protect their health at all costs to be able to learn this New Market in order to try to build wealth again, and they’ll have to protect themselves physically, including family members. Especially if they have older people to care about. All at the same time.

This means personal security, and protecting yourself will force people to be at their very best. Both physically, and mentally. If you have to defend yourself, you better have some big muscles or some martial arts or some self-defense training. You need to protect your assets and yourself and your family members. And if you are a Trillionaire, this goes next-level because it includes other countries looking at you to take down a lot of a country. Hence why, these individuals (Trillionaires) will have the constant attention (and many times next-level protection) of intelligence agencies. Why? Because in order to operate with peak performance you need several things like water supply, food supply, social circles in a healthy state etc.

This means money will flow to GYMs and Intelligence Agencies at least. Mental Health companies and Coaching services will also see money flowing their way because everyday people will try to do their best with what they have. And Trillionaires will have a lot of mental pressure, not to mention the constant worries about their physical security. When you have too many variables stacking against you, you need support. And people provide support. With their time, money and resources. Hence why, communication services that benefit healthy social circles will also be another new trend.

FINAL WORDS:

The ability to do relevant work is under attack, because Capitalism itself is under attack. Therefore the remaining Capitalist countries on the planet who do have Capitalism in place, are having to handle international pressure to survive. Because many countries are still under dictatorship regimes and socialism, or worse, under communist influence. Then geopolitics becomes another major workload for everyday people to understand because Globalization is in place. Outside forces, foreign forces, are influencing your own country. Some good, some bad. Because due to certain evil alliances between evil monopolies and the criminal side of governments, everything becomes under attack.

People just want to have a healthy life and enjoy it with friends and family.

But that has a cost. Your stability requires that other people (companies – a group of people) and (government agencies – another group of people) or individuals keep producing a product or a service in a way that a business transaction keeps making economic sense. The trade off, the benefits, have to keep making sense. Economic sense + quality of life. And it all has to be just. Because people have the personal justice factor, which moves them and explains their actions on The Market with their own personal time, money and resources. People go after rewards.

Therefore, with all these points in place, personal protection becomes a new rule. That's why this Market Prediction.

That's another quick word for now. Prepare yourself. You need to maximize your health and personal safety. Yours, and of your loved ones. The Game is getting harder, but people will bring solutions in time. And some solutions already exist.

Take care.
