COMMENT: We want you to have a look at some other data points about CHINA – the Supercountry – so you can understand why World Markets talk about the country so much on a daily basis. Here's interesting data → PERSONAL DATA: 4 ByteDance employees, based both on U.S. and China, were fired for spying journalists using Tik Tok's infrastructure. Furthermore, look at this: 80 internal TikTok meetings gave birth to leaked recordings showing that engineers in China do have access to US data. The Chinese government has data on U.S. people. They want to know how The USA operates. JOBS: 1 in 5 existing jobs in CHINA could be cut in the next 20 years. And there's more: 23% of Jobs in China's financial sector will be replaced by A.I. in 2027. SUPERCOMPUTERS: 5 of the world's top 10 supercomputers are from the United States. China on the other hand, has 2 top supercomputers. BATTERIES: 75% of the Market Share of BATTERIES belongs to China, and 6 of the 10 largest battery manufacturers are in China. PATENTS ON ELECTRIC VEHICLES: 14K patents related to EVs power trains belong to China already in 2023. While in 2nd, The United States has just 4000K patents. NUCLEAR ENERGY: 55 NUCLEAR reactors is what CHINA currently has to power the country. Over the past decade, 37 reactors were added. FOOD PRODUCTION DEPENDENCY: 80% of the materials and grains that China needs to grow their own FOOD is imported from other countries in the Open Market. CENSORSHIP: 3 finance commentators with 4.7 MILLION Weibo followers were blocked for speaking the truth about China's Economy. That gives you a good overview. Make sure to check out on your free time Master Cards CHINA: PART I and Master Cards CHINA: PART II for more quick insights.
